Hi, I'm Kristina

I love PINTEREST! Because of my love for Pinterest, design, and helping others, I completed Pinterest Virtual Assistant training through the Pinterest VA program. I am excited to help others achieve success on the Pinterest platform.

I have had my own parenting blog for a little over 2 years and have successfully marketed it on Pinterest. Based on my training and experience, I am confident in the success you can achieve with Pinterest.

I am constantly learning and educating myself on everything Pinterest. I believe it is important to stay on top of all the changes and learn the best practices of this amazing platform.

I am passionate and excited to be able to help you on your Pinterest journey. If you'll let me of course!
